FARADALE MEDIA M

Editorial Services

You might be a student with a paper to finish, a business leader hoping to improve the company's image, or a first-time author getting ready to self-publish. We can assist you with understanding and connecting with your readers, developing or refining your writing style, raising your grades or earnings, and, in the end, creating a lasting legacy.

Our areas of expertise include freelance proofreading, editing, translation (English to Bahasa Melayu, Bahasa Melayu to English), and manuscript reviews for both fiction and nonfiction.

Additionally, we worked on academic writings like student papers and theses as well as corporate communications like marketing brochures, reports, handbooks, and websites.

Search engine optimization, design work, and rewriting are things we don't do. However, we have strong connections in the publishing industry in case you require any more services beyond those mentioned above.
